

INITIAL READING ASSIGNMENTS – SUMMER 2005

May 16, 2005 (revised)

Accounting for Lawyers - Prof. Chapman

The initial assignment will be posted no later than Monday, May 16, at: <http://www.kentlaw.edu/classes/hchapman>.

Bankruptcy - Prof. Reibman

The assignments for the first week of classes are:

May 23: Text pp. 3-8, 10-13, 21-25, 45-57; Handout pp. 1-6.

May 25: Text pp. 74-77, 83-86, 101-102; Handout pp. 7-15, 17.

Criminal Procedure: The Adjudicatory Process - Prof. Thomas

The texts for this course are Kamisar, et. al., Modern Criminal Procedure (West 10th ed. 2002), and the 2004 Supplement (paperback). The initial assignment is to read the material listed below. Ordinarily I don't hold students to a high level of preparation for the first class.

However, this is a summer course, with only about half the classes of the fall or winter courses, so we must make every class count. My goal is not to need make-up classes, even though we will miss classes for Memorial Day and the Fourth of July weekend. Therefore, we will cover most (if not all) of the assigned material, and I expect that you will have read and be prepared to discuss it.

RIGHT TO COUNSEL

a. At Trial

Gideon v. Wainwright: 64-66

Argersinger v. Hamlin: 67-69

Scott v. Illinois: 69-70

Alabama v. Shelton: Supp. 1-7

c. Ineffective Assistance: 1115-19

Strickland v. Washington: 1120-30

United States v. Cronin: 1132-33

Bell v. Cone: Supp. 98-99

Nix v. Whiteside: 1143-47

Burdine v. Johnson: Supp. 99-101

Criminal Procedure: The Investigatory Process - Prof. Rudstein

For the first class (Tuesday, May 24), please read the following sections in the photocopied casebook: Introduction: The Bill of Rights and Its Applicability to the States, Introduction to the Fourth Amendment, Katz v. United States, United States v. White, Smith v. Maryland, United States v. Knotts, Note (United States v. Karo), California v. Ciraolo, Oliver v. United States, Note (United States v. Dunn, Dow Chemical Co. v. United States, and United States v. Place), Kyllo v. United States, and Note (United States v. Jacobsen and Illinois v. Andreas). Also, please be prepared to discuss problems 1A-1 through 1A-4, which I will e-mail you during the week before class. (If you do not receive the e-mail, please contact me at drudstei@kentlaw.edu.) The material we will be covering in the first class is extremely important and you will be at a severe disadvantage if you fall behind.

For the second class (Thursday, May 26), please read: Introduction to Probable Cause, Maryland v. Pringle, Whren v. United States, Note, Aguilar v. Texas, Spinelli v. United States, and Note (United States v. Harris). Also, prepare to discuss problems 1B-1 through 1B-4 from the problem packet I will hand out on the first night of class.

Evidence - Prof. Godfrey

Please read pp. 1-90 in Allen, et.al., Evidence: Text, Cases and Problems (3d ed.). This reading is a transcript of an actual trial. I think you will find it quite interesting. We will spend the first day of class on pp. 1-45, the People's case. Ask lots of questions while you read. Can you follow the judge's instructions? Which party presents a clear theory of the case that is persuasive and understandable? Which attorney is effective and why? Do you feel there is a lot of drama going on in the trial that is not captured by the transcript? I very much look forward to discussing this material with you.

Evidence - Prof. Kling

The text for this course is Evidence, Law and Practice by Friedland, Bergman & Taslitz (Lexis 2004). You also must have a copy of the 2005 Federal Rules of Evidence, with Committee Comments. The assignment for the first class is:

TOPIC	READING	RULES
Introduction	pp 1-27	101, 102, 106
Roles of the Players	pp 29-42	103, 104

Negotiations - Prof. Schoenfield

For the first class, please read Chapters 1, 2 and 12 in the text.

Personal Income Tax - Prof. Chapman

The initial assignment will be posted no later than Monday, May 16, at: <http://www.kentlaw.edu/classes/hchapman>.

Professional Responsibility - Prof. Kling

The texts for this course are: (1) Morgan & Rotunda, Professional Responsibility: Problems and Materials (8th ed. 2003); (2) Rules Governing the Legal Profession and Judiciary in Illinois (Illinois Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission, April 2004). For the first class, read pp.1-30; pp. 32-82; Problems 1, 2, 3.

Remedies - Prof. Eglit

For the first class, please read Laycock, Modern American Remedies (3d ed.), pp. 1-68, 74-92.

Tax Procedure - Prof. Decatorsmith

There is no required textbook for the course. The syllabus, with assigned readings, will be handed out the first day of class. However, for the first session you should obtain and review Wenz v. Commissioner, T.C. Memo. 1995-277, and IRS Pub. 947. Please contact me if you have a problem obtaining either of these.
