PROPOSED CHANGES TO CHICAGO-KENT CODE OF CONDUCT (2015)

DEFINITIONS OF SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

The language below reflects the new definitions that will be considered by the faculty.

§2-2 Nonacademic Misconduct

* * *

(m) Sexual Misconduct, which includes:

(i) Sexual Assault, which is defined as (a) penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the person (also known as rape), (b) touching of the private parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, without the consent of the victim (also known as fondling), (c) intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degree wherein marriage is prohibited by the laws of the State of Illinois (also known as incest); (d) sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent set by the State of Illinois (also known as statutory rape); and (e) action meeting the definition of any category of criminal sexual assault or abuse under the laws of the State of Illinois;

(ii) Dating Violence, which is defined as violence, including, but not limited to, sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse, committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. Dating violence does not include acts covered under the definition of domestic violence. The existence of such a relationship is determined based on the reporting party’s statement and with consideration of the length of the relationship, the type of relationship and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship;

(iii) Domestic Violence, which is defined as a felony or misdemeanor crime of violence under the laws of the State of Illinois committed by (a) a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, (b) a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, (c) a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabited with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, (d) a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the State of Illinois, or (e) any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person’s acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the State of Illinois;

(iv) Sexual Exploitation, which is defined as taking non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another for one’s own benefit or to the benefit of another other than the person being exploited and that does not otherwise constitute an offense covered by the definition of sexual misconduct, such as, but not limited to, prostituting another, nonconsensual video or audio taping of sexual activity, engaging in voyeurism, invading another’s sexual privacy, and exposing one’s genitals or inducing another to expose his or her genitals in nonconsensual circumstances;

(v) Stalking, which is defined as engaging in a course of conduct (meaning two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts in which the perpetrator directly, indirectly or through third parties, by any action, method, device or means follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens or communicates to or about a person or interferes with a person’s property) directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person (meaning one under similar circumstances and with similar identifies to the victim) to fear for his or her safety or the safety of others or to suffer substantial emotional distress (meaning significant mental suffering or anguish that may, but does not necessarily, require medical or other professional treatment or counseling).

For purposes of the foregoing relevant offenses, consent means informed, freely and actively given, mutually understandable words or actions which indicate a clear affirmative agreement to participate in mutually agreed upon activity. Consent can only be given by one who is 17 years of age or older. Consent must be clear and unambiguous, and it should not be presumed in the absence of such an agreement or from the manner of dress of the victim at the time of the activity. Further, a person who initially consents to sexual penetration or sexual conduct is not deemed to have consented to any sexual penetration or sexual conduct that occurs after he or she withdraws consent during the course of that sexual penetration or sexual conduct. The absence of “no” should not be understood to per se mean there is consent. Consent is not effective if it results from the use of force, threats, intimidation, or coercion. In addition, to have sex with someone who you know to be, or should know to be incapable of making a rational, reasonable decision about a sexual situation is a violation of this policy (e.g. an intoxicated person or someone with a temporary or permanent mental or emotional impairment).

The College abides by the IIT Policy and Procedures Applicable to Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct, which is incorporated herein by reference. Any action brought against a student of the College alleging sexual misconduct shall be conducted in accordance with the procedures specified in this Code of Conduct.

The language below is the interim language adopted last year, and which would be superseded by the language above.

(m) Sexual misconduct, which includes:

(i) Sexual assault, which is defined as any of the following conduct if done without effective consent: (a) sexual intercourse (anal, oral, or vaginal); (b) physical sexual violence, such as sexual assault or sexual battery; and (c) sexual touching of another, however slight, including sexual touching with an object; disrobing of another; or exposure to another;

(ii) Dating violence, which is defined as violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim, where the existence of such a relationship is determined based upon a consideration of the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship;

(iii) Domestic violence, which includes felony or misdemeanor crimes of violence committed by a current or former spouse of the victim, by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, by a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse, by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the State of Illinois, or by any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person’s acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the State of Illinois;

(iv) Sexual exploitation, which is defined as taking non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another for one’s own benefit or to the benefit of another other than the person being exploited and that does not otherwise meet the definition of sexual misconduct, such as, but not limited to, prostituting another, non-consensual video or audio taping of sexual activity, engaging in voyeurism, invading another’s sexual privacy, and exposing one’s genitals or inducing another to expose his or her genitals in non-consensual circumstances;

(v) Stalking, which is defined as a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for his or her safety or the safety of others or to suffer substantial emotional distress.

For purposes of the foregoing relevant offenses, effective consent is informed, freely and actively given, mutually understandable words or actions which indicate a positive agreement to participate in mutually agreed upon sexual activity. Consent must be clear and unambiguous, and it should not be presumed in the absence of such an agreement. The absence of “no” should not be understood to per se mean there is consent. Consent is not effective if it results from the use of force, threats, intimidation, or coercion. In addition, to have sex with someone whom the person knows, or should know, to be incapable of making a rational, reasonable decision about a sexual situation is a violation of this policy (e.g. an intoxicated person or someone with a mental or emotional impairment).

The College abides by the IIT Policy and Procedures Applicable to Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct, which is incorporated herein by reference. Any action brought against a student of the College alleging sexual misconduct shall be conducted in accordance with the procedures specified in this Code of Conduct, as well as any additional procedures contained in the IIT Policy to the extent that they are not inconsistent with provisions of this Code.

STANDARD OF PROOF

Section 6-3(i) of the Code of Conduct currently provides that alleged offenses must be proven by clear and convincing evidence. The Department of Education has interpreted Title IX to require a preponderance of the evidence standard for allegations of sexual misconduct. The faculty will consider whether to retain the current clear and convincing evidence standard for all offenses; adopt the preponderance of the evidence standard for sexual misconduct offenses only; or adopt the preponderance standard for all offenses.
