Dear Midwest Regional NBLSA Student,

We are excited to announce the beginning of registration for the Twenty-Second Annual NBLSA-Midwest Regional (MWBLSA) Minority Recruitment Conference, hosted by the Cleveland-Marshall College of Law BLSA Chapter. We have invited employers who are committed to minority recruitment, hiring, and retention, as well as those who are willing to consider a wide variety of credentials as indicators of qualified potential employees. Our Recruitment Conference provides a venue for legal employers to interview minority law students and be a part of seminars and networking events during the conference weekend. Although we invite and strongly encourage employers and students from across the nation to participate in the Recruitment Conference, our primary focus is to bring Midwestern legal employers together with students of color from over forty law school across the Midwest.

This year’s Recruitment Conference will be held Friday, August 15, 2008 – Sunday, August 17, 2008 in Cleveland, Ohio. As in the past, this year’s Conference is organized entirely by students. The Conference has brought together over 600 different employers and thousands of law students over the past twenty years. Last year we hosted over 40 legal employers and over 100 students from law schools in the Midwest Region. The 2008 Conference will be even larger! Please review this packet and register quickly! Registration is NOW OPEN and will conclude on July 27, 2008*. We look forward to a great conference and hope to see you there.

Best regards,
