

The Office of International Law and Policy will issue Administrative Memos throughout the term. Please consult Dean Lazar or the OILP staff if you have any questions about information and instructions in the memos.

1. STUDYING FOR A THIRD SEMESTER [“Concentration” program]

Overseas Training program students who want to stay at the law school for a 3rd semester can defer graduation and enroll in the “Concentration in American Legal Studies Program.” Any student currently studying at CK on an F or J visa is eligible to apply for this program, and former CK graduates are eligible to apply, however acceptance is not guaranteed and is at the discretion of the Dean of Chicago-Kent.

The program requires students to register for between 9 and 12 credit hours and a minimum of 9 credits is required. Students are required to submit a new Financial Affidavit, dated within the last 6 months, showing sufficient resources for 9 credits plus 5 months living expenses.

Concentration students are not permitted to register as auditors, but must instead take their classes for either a graded credit or pass/fail. They must attend class, do all required work and sit for final exams. All courses taken and grades received as a “concentration” student will appear on your final law school transcript.

For Spring 2010, the cost for concentration students will be 50% of the prevailing per credit hour charge of $1190, so 9 credits will cost $5355. Students who are currently enrolled as LLM students at Chicago-Kent College of Law and who are extending their program to include the Concentration will be awarded their LLM degrees at the end of the Concentration term and will be eligible to walk in the May 2010 Commencement ceremony following the end of the Concentration term. The Concentration program is a one semester program and cannot be extended.

Overseas Training program students who participate in the Concentration program and therefore graduate in May 2010 (instead of December 2009), will be eligible to work in the US under the terms of Optional Practical Training (“OPT”).

HOW TO APPLY

- 1 Notify Hilary Waldron in the Office of International Law and Policy (hwaldron@kentlaw.edu), on or before September 15, 2009 that you want to be a concentration student for Spring 2010.
- 2 Hilary will prepare a new Financial Affidavit for you based on 9 credits plus 5 months living expenses. The new FA must be submitted to Hilary no later than October 1, 2009.

9.21.09

- 3 Register for spring classes – you can take between 9 and 12 credits at a cost of 50% of the prevailing pch rate ($1190 for Spring 2010). Nine (9) credits for Spring 2009 will therefore cost $5355 and the Financial Affidavit will also include estimated living expenses for 5 months of $8420 for a total of $13,775.

2. EXCHANGE STUDENTS INTERESTED IN THE LL.M. PROGRAM

All exchange students who earn a GPA of 3.0 or better and are otherwise in good standing are eligible to return as LL.M. students after they have completed their home country legal studies (earned a first degree in law). Exchange students may petition to be admitted to the LL.M. program while they are in Chicago if they wish to stay for the Spring term of the same academic year, however they cannot be awarded an LL.M. degree until they complete their first law degree abroad. If an exchange student is admitted to the LL.M. program for the same academic year, Chicago-Kent will “bank” their degrees and the LL.M. degree and diploma will be awarded to the student when proof of the home country degree is presented.

HOW TO APPLY:

1. Notify Hilary Waldron in the Office of International Law and Policy (hwaldron@kentlaw.edu), on or before September 25, 2009 that you want to apply to be admitted to the LL.M. program for Spring 2010
2. Submit the following documents:
  - A short (2 page maximum) essay explaining your interest in the LL.M. program, your legal studies background and your goals.
  - Two (2) letters of recommendation from any Chicago-Kent professor except Professor David Gerber or Dean Lazar
  - Prior academic transcripts [NOTE: we may have these in the file already]
3. An admissions committee formed by Professor David Gerber, Dean Lazar and one other professor will review your completed file and make a decision about admission to the current year LL.M. program.
4. If admitted, you will work with Hilary Waldron to extend your visa status for a second term.

If interested in this option, you should immediately notify Hilary Waldron and begin preparing your documents and arranging for two letters of recommendation to be submitted to Dean Lazar. If you wish to make an appointment to speak with Dean Lazar about this process, please contact Hilary Waldron. When your files are complete, we will notify you.

3. GRADUATING LLMS – DECEMBER 2009

Students who plan on graduating at the end of the Fall semester should closely watch their email for messages from Tara Anderson, the Director of Alumni Affairs, who will be in touch concerning important administrative matters relating to graduation.

4. EXAM ISSUES

Chicago-Kent College of Law provides limited accommodation for non-US law students who are studying in English for the first time, whether they are studying as LL.M. students or as Exchange students. The accommodation consists of the following measures:

- a) Extra time on exams, but only if the student did not take their first law degree in English. LL.M. and Exchange students will have their exams rescheduled for 8:30 am each morning unless you hold a law degree that was taught in English, in which case you will take your exams with the J.D. students.
- b) LLM students are permitted the use of a paper English/other language dictionary in all exams, including closed book exams. Laptop or other electronic dictionaries as well as legal dictionaries (e.g. Black's law dictionary) are forbidden under all circumstances.
- c) Students who wish to take their exams on a laptop can do so and still qualify for extra time. However, students who wish to use a Chicago-Kent computer in a computer lab for their exam will not qualify for extra time.

5. YOUR PROFILES

We will post profiles of the Class of 2010 on the website and send an email with information about the class to all CK faculty members and many potential employers in the Chicago area. All students should complete a profile for inclusion in the online directory. See the examples included in your Orientation Binders for instructions. Please submit the first draft of your profile, no later than Friday, October 2, 2009. Hilary Waldron will work with Overseas Training Program students to finalize their profiles, all other students, please work with Violeta Jimenez.
