Ms. Li has had internships at both Beijing Tian Yuan Law Firm and Beijing Junzejun Law Firm. At Beijing Junzejun Law Firm, she concentrated on anti-monopoly issues and prepared memos for clients, helped clients answer questionnaires. Through her internship, she was able to gain more knowledge of WTO Law and research skills. At Beijing Tian Yuan, she translated files and contracts, and drafted legal documents for clients so she was able to improve her legal English skills. She was also a general secretary in the Legal Association of her university. She performed in the mock trial, organized members to hear cases in the court, and prepared legal articles for members to read.

Ms. Li received her Bachelor's of Law from the University of International Business and Economics in 2007, where she focused on international business law. She is currently pursuing an LL.M. in Financial Services Law at Chicago Kent College of Law.

When she is not working in the law field, Ms. Li is a Chinese tutor with The Beijing Center (TBC). TBC is an international education program, where Ms. Li introduced Chinese culture to foreign students, helping them to learn Chinese. She was awarded an Excellent Teaching Prize. Ms. Li speaks Chinese and English.
