Ms. Liu is a lawyer at Beacon Law Firm. At Beacon, she provides legal advice for clients and reviews and drafts contracts. In addition, she does legal research, especially relating to international trade, corporate business and foreign investment.

Ms. Liu received her Bachelor's of Law from Peking University in 1999. While at Peking University, Ms. Liu served as the first editor-in-chief of Century Wind, a student journal. Ms. Liu took time out of her busy schedule in 2006 to do some pro-bono legal work, traveling to Papua New Guinea to work with a local NGO on issues related to the illegal timber trade. She was the first volunteer from mainland China in the Paradise Forest Rescue Activities. Following her time in Papua New Guinea, Ms. Liu gave speeches at several Chinese universities, discussing her experiences and the issues involved in international illegal timber trading. She is currently pursuing an LL.M. in International and Comparative Law at Chicago-Kent College of Law in partnership with China University of Political Science and Law.

Ms. Liu is licensed to practice in China and is a member of the Beijing Bar Association and the China Bar Association. Ms. Liu also writes legal columns for several publications including, China's Digest and Women's Friend. These columns focus on issues pertinent to such areas as business law and intellectual property law. She also writes articles against illegal international timber trade. Ms. Liu speaks Chinese and English.
