

Ms. Liying Feng

Program: International and Comparative Law

Address: 605W. Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois 60661

E-mail: lfeng@kentlaw.edu

Phone: (312) 799 1710

Ms. Liying Feng is a partner at the Beijing LiYang Law Firm. She provides overall legal services and effective legal protection of intellectual property right for her clients. In this capacity, Ms. Feng works with relevant governmental authorities and protects clients' interests in attacking counterfeit commodities as well as handles many infringement litigations, oversee non-litigation issues, and provide strategic management of intellectual property rights.

Ms. Feng successfully deals with all types of litigation cases such as torts, contract disputes, labor arbitrations, commercial negotiations, and economic lawsuits. She has successfully handled financial legal services for callback and disposal of bad assets for banks and assets management companies. Ms. Feng has drafted operation, trade, and development plans for clients in China and throughout the world. She has provided her clients with international investment, project finance, merger and re-organization of enterprise, technology consignment, protection of intellectual property rights, arbitration and litigation service advice too. She provides overall legal services for the real estate development construction projects and real estate financial business.

Ms. Liying Feng is a member of the Chinese Lawyer's Association since September 2003, a member of Beijing Trademark Committee since July 2005 and a invited researcher of Beijing High-New Technology Intellectual Property Institute since July 2007.

She graduated from Southwest University of Political Science and Law, Chongqing, China in 2002, majoring in civil and Commercial Law. She is studying at Chicago-Kent College of Law, Illinois Institute of Technology.

Ms. Liying Feng speaks Mandarin (native) and English

Contact information in China:

E-mail: fengliying658@sina.com red-girl2006@hotmail.com