

Ms. Min Li

Program: International Intellectual Property Law

Address:

625 W. Madison St #610
Chicago, IL 60661

E-mail: mli1@kentlaw.edu

Phone: 312-662-2105

Ms. Li has been an attorney with Shanghai International Economic and Trade Law Office since 2006. Ms. Li's main practice areas include international trade law, corporate law and intellectual property law. Ms. Li has successfully provided legal services to a foreign client for its merger with a domestic hospital as well as provided professional legal services to foreign investors in the establishment and operation of joint venture or wholly foreign-owned enterprise. Ms Li has provided professional legal advice for clients on intellectual property protection when in the business of international trade, franchise, licensing or foreign direct investment and has represented clients involved in infringement disputes. She has represented clients in disputes with respect to international trade and construction contracts which were settled through Chinese International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission, Shanghai Commission. Before Ms. Li became a practicing attorney, she worked as a civil servant in Hubei Xiaogan Judicial Bureau in China for 5 years.

Ms. Li received her Masters degree of Law from Wuhan University in 2006. While she studied international economic law for her Masters degree, she published a paper titled "Regulating Parallel Importation on the International Level" and also participated in research on WTO rules under the instruction of Professor Haicong Zuo. Ms. Li is currently pursuing an LL.M. in International Intellectual Property Law at Chicago-Kent College of Law and is a current member of the Intellectual Property Law Society.

Ms. Li is licensed to practice in China and is a member of the Shanghai Bar Association. Ms. Li speaks English and Mandarin.

Contact information in China:

Limin77@hotmail.com